13 — cannot say from the unsettled state of the market

14 — this establishment is at present in good order — leather has considerable declined in price within these two years. owing no doubt in some measure to some importation of leather from the Brasil — together with a number of articles manufactured from leather

spanish — Hides have advanced 50 pcent over what they were before the beginning of the last war — that leather Spanish hides are at this of which nearly the same price — this in consequence this Establishment has not tanned more than 1/3 of the leather it formerly tanned

Mechanicks Town, Frederick County, Maryland — 198

Election District No. 4. — Manufactory of G. J. Conradt

Raw material employed
1. Wool & cotton yarn.
2. 4000 lbs of wool, and 700 lbs of cotton yarn.
3. cost of wool $2800; of cotton yarn $370. total 3170

Number of persons employed
4. Ten Men
5. One Woman
6 Eight Boys & Girls

Whole Quantity of Machinery:
7. Three carding & three spining machins; Four broad & three narow Loomy; Two Shearing and One raising machin; Fulling mill &c.

In operation
8. One third of the carding and spining machins, and 3 Loomy; the rest employed about ⅓ of the Time.

Expenditures
9. Capital invested $11000, independent of raw material
10. $3.500, paid annually for wages.
11. $450. Annual contingent expency..

Production. Market value
12. The articles manufactured are, Broad cloth; Casimery; Casinett; Blanket; Flanel &c.
13. As there is no regular market or demand for the goody, it is difficult to say what is the market valew of them. If the prices obtained at auction, are to be esteemed market value, I can only say that the goody will sometime bring a small profit; at other times cost, but most frequently less than cost. I sell my goody chiefly to the country merchant, the sale amounting to about $8000.

Genral remarks 14. This establishment was made in 1815 & 16, under a confident expectation that Government would protect the interist of manufacturs. The immense influx of foreign goods, however, glutted and depriced the market to a ruinous extent, and Government permitting it to continue, leaves the american manufacturer at the mercy of foreign competitors of immense wealth, long established in business, and protected by their Governments in every possible way. A few large and wealthy manufacturs may indeed flourish, under the present protection, but genrally they cannot posibly prosper. G. J. Conradt
